Syd Cottle BSc (Hons) FCABE CEnv MCIQB MIWFM, Director of Estates Management, University of Liverpool, UK

Syd is the Chair Elect of AUDE, AUDE Regional Chair of North West England, member of the AUDE Equality Diversity and Inclusion Group, and the Professional Development Group.

Originally a commercial building surveyor, Syd is in his ninth year at the University of Liverpool following on from six years within the National Health Service (NHS) and, prior to that, eleven years at Edge Hill University. He is also a Director of two subsidiary companies at the University of Liverpool: the 'University of Liverpool Energy Company' and the 'University of Liverpool Construction Company'.

Holding an honours degree in Building Surveying, Syd has over 30 years professional experience in surveying, construction, estates and facilities management. His breadth and depth of experience is demonstrated by the range of professional qualifications he holds. He is a Fellow of the Chartered Association of Building Engineers, Chartered Environmentalist, Chartered Builder, and Certified Member of the Institute of Workplace and Facilities Management. He also has qualifications in project management, health & safety, and business continuity.

Having led on the service delivery of estates and facilities management departments, Syd has been responsible for maintenance for over 26 years of his career and is looking forward to learning more about how maintenance matters within sustainable higher education sector estates and meeting professional colleagues attending this HEFMA conference.

Whilst in the NHS Syd was active within the Health Estates & Facilities Management Association and was also North West UK Regional Chair for the Chartered Association of Building Engineers.
